

Dr Daniel WM Chan BEng(Hons) PhD MAPM MHKICM ICIOB AMAIB

Assistant Professor, Department of Building and Real Estate,
The Hong Kong Polytechnic University

Daniel obtained his BEng(Hons) degree in Civil and Structural Engineering and PhD degree in Construction Project Management from the Department of Civil Engineering, The University of Hong Kong. He started his engineering profession as an Assistant Structural Engineer upon graduation by joining a local leading structural building design consulting engineering practice. He is a project manager and construction manager by profession.

Dr Chan has been appointed as an Assistant Professor in Construction Management and Engineering by the Department of Building and Real Estate of The Hong Kong Polytechnic University since July 2003. He has published over 60 research papers on the broad theme of project management in leading construction management journals and international conference proceedings.

His research interests include construction time performance, procurement systems, project partnering and strategic alliance, construction site safety management, public private partnership (PPP) and target cost contracting.

Daniel is committee member with responsibility for educational development and membership recruitment.