

David Kai Cheung YAU BSc(Hons) MSc CEng MICE MHKIVM MHKIE RPE

Assistant General Manager, Project Management (1) Department,
Henderson Land Development Company Limited

David is a chartered civil engineer with 20 years practical experience in construction and project management. He joined Henderson Land Development in 1999 as an Assistant General Manager in the Project Management Department and heads their Research and Development team. His current projects include responsibility for Henderson's West Kowloon Cultural District submission, The Beverley Hills (Tai Po), Jing Ao Centre (Beijing CBD) and Taipa development (Macau).

David is an Adjunct Assistant Professor at the Chinese University of Hong Kong to the Department of Architecture since 2003 as well as a visiting lecturer to the Hong Kong Polytechnic University DBRE since 2001.

Community Services

2001 – 2004 Construction Industry Task Force IT-Subgroup: Secretary

2001 – present HKIVM: Director and Council Member

2002 – present Institution of Civil Engineers: CPR Reviewer & Reviews Panel Member

2003 Building Department's Expert Panel on reusable and recyclable formwork

2003 – present HK-BEAM Society Council Member

David is committee member responsible for communications.